DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-2, drawn to a self contained thermal transfer label, classified in class 428, subclass 40.1.
 - II. Claims 3-4, drawn to a method of making, classified in class 156, subclass 247.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions Group I and Group II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product can be made by a materially different process such as forming the product by curing the second adhesive, instead of semi-curing the second adhesive.
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Gene Scott on December 12, 2004 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-2. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 3-4 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1, the phrase "facestock severed into labels aligned along the facestock" is found to be indefinite because it is unclear as to how are the labels aligned along the facestock ?

Claims 1-2, as stated, are found to be vague and indefinite. It is not clear as to where is the second adhesive located on the facestock ?

Claim 2, the phrase "the second adhesive" is found to be indefinite for lack of antecedent basis.

Double Patenting

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 1-2 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,309,498. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the instant claimed invention and the Patent'498 are directed to self contained thermal transfer label having, in order, a release liner, a first adhesive, a facestock , a second adhesive and a donor ribbon strip. However, the Patent'498 teaches the presence of release material on portions of the facestock and disposed under the second adhesive. It would have been obvious to provide the claimed invention in the instant application to provide with the release material under the second adhesive to thereby render the donor ribbon removable from the facestock.

Allowable Subject Matter

The prior art uncovered so far fails to teach or suggest the self contained transfer thermal label structure as claimed, in that the second adhesive is ultraviolet curable and disposed in portions only on the upper surface of the facestock .
